

Menu Availability

Menus are available and published on the Lunch Direct site for ordering the 16th of each month, for the following month.

This is after careful menu preparation, food vendor ingredient availability verification and ordering, and internal Chef Quality Assurance.

In some cases the caterer may miss the menu publication schedule. If it is not available when you go to order, please allow a couple of days for their process to complete and actually publish the menu.